

Fully admitted, continued inpatient care at home.

A groundbreaking solution.

Hospital in Home is an innovative program that allows patients to continue their inpatient treatment in the comfort of their homes.

From post-surgical recuperation and inpatient testing and observation, to a mix of chronic and nonchronic conditions, it's designed to treat a broad range of health conditions and acuity levels. Here's how it works:

From hospital. To Hospital in Home —

Patients are admitted into the hospital, diagnosed and processed for treatment. Then they're moved home to continue receiving care as fully admitted inpatients getting the full spectrum of their treatment to align with their physician's outlined regimen.

Secure, cloud-based, Connected Health technologies — Hospital in Home patients engage their clinical teams and caregivers through Trapollo Converge, our highly flexible and extensible virtual-care platform, purpose-built for delivering care coordination and health monitoring.

World-class logistics — Trapollo's team coordinates with patients and providers, ensuring the rapid deployment and the timely delivery and removal of all the necessary equipment in and out of homes.

A hospital is an expensive place to treat a patient. It's also the last place they want to be.

Our Hospital in Home program can help reduce per-day costs for hospitalization while helping to increase compliance and adherence rates. Which makes for patients who are happier and healthier.

Trapollo is proof that a patient-first approach to Connected Health makes it more human. More kind. Let us show you how.

Human. Kind.
